

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Split HVAC systems and components are designed to be installed by qualified HVAC technicians.

The installation of HVAC systems includes electrical, gas, and refrigerant connections, is generally regulated by a multiple sets of laws, codes and guidelines, at the federal, state and local levels. Further, the failure to properly install HVAC equipment can raise personal safety and performance concerns. Further, no warranty is offered for the products that were installed by unlicensed/unauthorized persons.

As outlined, the failure to comply with this policy could lead to violations of applicable law that are punishable by fines.